

OPERA IN PHILADELPHIA

AN INDEX TO COMPOSERS AND THEIR WORK

COMPILED BY Frank Hamilton © 2010

fh@FrankHamilton.org

This is a rough attempt to automatically generate an index of composers from the performance annals. Many operas performed in early America were loose adaptations derived from their European counterparts. Others were almost entirely new creations using only the plot and a few tunes from the original, but still retained the names of the genuine works. Some works were a pastiche derived from several works by different composers. It has not always been possible to determine exactly what was performed on stage. This index tries to merge works (with names in several languages) under a common header for the composer of the original work. Unfortunately, I have had to guess at the composer of some works; those have been indicated in brackets []s in the performance annals, but not here.

Unlike the index of artists, this index does include every repetition that is known. However, since the performance annals themselves are still a work in progress, this index is not complete or finished either.

As an alternative to this index, one can search the documents manually while reading them with Acrobat Reader, by typing \hat{F} (pressing the control-key and F at the same time), then enter the word to search for in the pop-up window.
